

INTRODUCING

Esogetic Colorpuncture™

A POWERFUL SYSTEM OF ACU-LIGHT THERAPY FOR THE BODY AND MIND

2 DAY WORKSHOP - 14 CEU credits

WITH KAY VOGEL, CCP, SEP

JUNE 30 - JULY 1, 2012 • HOUSTON, TX

WHAT IS ESOGETIC COLORPUNCTURE?

Esogetic Colorpuncture is an advanced healing technology, in which gentle, non-invasive vibrations of colored light are applied to the body via acu-points on the skin. It was developed by a well-known German naturopath named Peter Mandel. This system combines ancient esoteric or spiritual healing principles with the energetic wisdom and concepts of Chinese Medicine, as well as modern light biophysics. Esogetic Colorpuncture particularly emphasizes treatment of the psycho-spiritual roots of pain and illness. These treatments gently unlock and release emotional trauma and blocked information in the unconscious that contribute to ill health.

This 2-day workshop offers an in-depth introduction to the theories of Esogetic Colorpuncture. You will also learn several light treatments that you can begin experimenting with in your practice or using for self healing. There will be opportunities for hands-on practice and personal experience of these light therapies. PLEASE NOTE: This introduction is the first step for those interested in taking the Esogetic Colorpuncture Basic Practitioner Certification Course starting in Houston, TX in September, 2012.

ABOUT THE INSTRUCTOR:

Kay Vogel is Houston's most experienced Esogetic Colorpuncture practitioner and has an international diploma in Esogetic Medicine. Kay combines Esogetic Colorpuncture acu-light therapy with SE Trauma Release Therapy, Craniosacral Therapy and Behavioral Iridology in her busy Houston holistic healing private practice. She is currently completing her internship as an Esogetic Colorpuncture instructor, working under the supervision of the U.S. Esogetic Colorpuncture Institute.

"After 12 years doing massage therapy, I saw Colorpuncture as a less physically demanding option that I could still incorporate with my bodywork. I discovered that Colorpuncture really enabled my clients to go to deeper levels and discover the inner answers to their own issues in a gentle and non-invasive way." S. Kocina, Massage Therapist

"Esogetic Colorpuncture addresses brain function specifically in ways that TCM doesn't. This gives me a Western scientific vocabulary to use with clients when I am discussing treatments. I found this was very reassuring for clients who may not believe in alternative healing. I also found that Colorpuncture brings balance way beyond Yin and Yang, helps my clients to hold the benefits of any acupuncture treatment better, and enables them to get off their herbs sooner without regressing into the chronicity of their condition."

P. Rose, Acupuncturist
